Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The claims are narrative in form and replete with indefinite and functional or operational language. The structure which goes to make up the device must be clearly and positively specified. The structure must be organized and correlated in such a manner as to present a complete operative device. Note the format of the claims in the patent(s) cited. The narrative form of the claims includes the phrases "an easily removable rear panel to permit ..." and "which is quick and easily replaced..", " as well as the expansion, of the", etc. The applicant is behooved to review all of the claims for such narrative informalities.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Rohrbough.

As the applicant's invention is best understood Rohrbough discloses the use of a metal frame (column 1, lines 30-35) for a zither that accommodates a plurality of chord bars (column 1 lines 25-30). Rohrbough also discloses the use of device that is unaffected by string tension and humidity (column 3, lines 30-35) and interchangeable chord bars (column 3, lines 50-60) and the use of a chord bar retainer and a retaining assembly (see figure 1). Rohrbough does not disclose the specific use of a rear panel to permit interchangeable units or expansion.

However it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the device as disclosed by Rohrbough to include a rear panel since Rohrbough discloses the use of side walls that provide a variance of positions of chords bars.
